

The Center for Global Culture and Communication, an interdisciplinary initiative of Northwestern University School of Communication and The Difficult Dialogues Project on “Negotiating Memory and Difference”, sponsored by The Ford Foundation, present

FORUM ON REPARATIONS, REDRESS AND RESTORATIVE JUSTICE

Friday, February 22

Morning Session 10-12:30

Afternoon Session 1:45-4

108 Harris Hall

Northwestern University, Evanston

Panel #1

THE AFRICAN AMERICAN REPARATIONS MOVEMENT

Roy L. Brooks,

University of San Diego School of Law

Adjoa A. Aiyetoro,

William H. Bowen School of Law, University of Arkansas at Little Rock

Alfred L. Brophy,

University of Alabama School of Law

Dylan C. Penningroth, Respondent

Northwestern University

Discussion with the audience

12:30-1:30 Lunch Provided

Panel #2

THE QUEST FOR RESTORATIVE JUSTICE IN THE CIVIL RIGHTS ERA AND BEYOND

Rita L. Bender,

Widow of Civil Rights Worker Michael Schwerner

Ed Whitfield,

Fund for Democratic Communities, Greensboro, NC

Flint Taylor,

People's Law Office, Chicago

Barnor Hesse, Respondent

Northwestern University

Audience Discussion